COTTON BASED FABRICS

Strech Cotton

This material shows good durability, utility and high water-absorbing capacity. In humid atmosphere it can absorb 27% of water without getting damp, has very good breathable characteristics, it is hypoallergenic, feels great to touch, suits perfectly for people with skin hypersensitivity. It has low thermal-conductivity, therefore it is an ideal material for summer clothes, it prevents you from heat. It has very high elasticity characteristics, easily washable and can be ironed even at high temperature.

Two-Way

This fabric can be stretched into two directions. It is best used in clothing where you need an elastic waist and free range of motion.

Viscose Poly Jersey

This type of cotton-like viscose is really soft and light, it feels good to wear, because the material is breathable and nice to touch. Thanks to the spandex the fabric is flexible, and it keeps its shape after several washings.
